King later said "things have not improved at all."

Modern Math Seminar Slated For City, County Teachers

A modern math seminar has been arranged by George D. McDowell, Pickaway County superintendent of schools, for elementary and secondary teachers in the county and Circleville school systems.

McDowell, in announcing the 10-week seminar, said an estimated 90 teachers will be registered for the program when it begins Mar. 10.

Each of the 10 sessions will be for a two-hour period, beginning at 7 p. m. The workshop will be conducted in the Teays Valley High School cafeteria.

Dr. Clarence Heinke, chairman of the department of mathematics at Capital University, has agreed to conduct the program.

MODERN MATH is now being taught on the third grade level in the county school system, the county superintendent pointed out. He said it will be introduced at the fourth grade level next year.

Current plans call for the new method of math instruction to be incorporated into the county school program on a gradual basis.

The Teays Valley cafeteria can handle approximately 200 persons, McDowell said. He noted that parents are welcome to attend the sessions as long as there is space available in the cafeteria.

The modern math seminar was made possible by $500 McDowell was able to obtain under the National Defense Education Act. Although a certificate will be given to teachers to show the course was completed, no college credits will be granted.

Thought provoking views on the "new math" is given by a 14-year-old California student. Her second in a series of five articles is carried today on Page 5.

Steel Talks Start Hinted

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Negotiators for the United Steelworkers and the 11 major steel firms are expected to meet Thursday in a preliminary session sure to have important bearing on the long-delayed efforts to write a new contract for the basic industry.

The industry requested the meeting to plan resumption of the talks next Monday and to press for an extension of the union's May 1 strike deadline.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, in a letter to USW President David J. McDonald Monday, called for "prompt amendment of the termination provisions of the current labor agreement so as to reinstitute the 120-days' notice provision."

Contract talks are expected to resume next Monday. The union may strike May 1 if no agreement is reached.

Second Auto Crash Injures Medic

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—The only doctor in Bloomville, a community of 836 about 10 miles south of here, is in Tiffin Mercy Hospital after two auto accidents early today.

He is Dr. Roger Saylor, 39, who was treated for a leg injury. The two accidents occurred within five hours of each other, the Highway Patrol said.

The Seneca County sheriff's office said it investigated when Saylor's car left Ohio 18, about seven miles east of here, just after midnight and crashed into a fence. Deputies said the doctor was not injured in the first accident but his car was damaged.

At about 5 a. m., the physician was hurt when his car went off Ohio 19 in Bloomville and hit a tree.

U.S., Russian Chiefs Renew Talk of Visits

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson indicates he still hopes to exchange visits this year with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. And the Soviet leader, despite his blasts at U.S. policies in Viet Nam, says a Johnson visit to Moscow "would be very pleasant."

Kosygin raised the visit possibility anew Monday. He indicated to newsmen that Johnson already had been invited, and added: "We wish to have better relations."

Shortly afterward, the White House replied that nothing has changed since a Feb. 3 speech in which Johnson said:

"I have reason to believe that the Soviet leadership would welcome my visit to their country — as I would be very glad to do. I am hopeful that before this year is out this exchange of visits between us may occur."

Johnson had suggested in his Jan. 4 State of the Union message that the Soviet leaders visit this country. Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, endorsed the idea three weeks later.

Since then, however, American officials have said:

Red Chinese Bragging at Trade Fair

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP) — The Red Chinese have returned to the Leipzig industrial fair after a three-year absence with an exhibit showing what they can do without foreign help.

The motto seems to be "our own production" or "our own steel" or "our own technicians."

The visitor enters the exhibition hall through a colorfully decorated archway and faces a giant tapestry portrait of Mao Tse-tung. A slogan beneath says that the Chinese people, led by Mao, worked toward building socialism on the basis of their "own initiative."

The word "own" is repeated in describing every product exhibited, machines, electronic microscopes, heavy machine tools and communications equipment, for example.

One poster says 95 per cent of China's rolled-steel products have come "out of our own production."

A large part of the exhibit was devoted to food products — "Great Wall" canned corned beef, roast duck and braised chicken, to list a few.

"They have nothing to eat themselves and they show up here with this food exhibit," said one East German.

School Chiefs Await Poll

AMELIA, Ohio (AP) — West Clermont school officials fearing further cutbacks and loss of teachers if a 3.5 mill operating levy is not approved, waited the outcome of a special election today.

Voters in 37 of Clermont County's 115 precincts went to the polls, and officials hoped the third time would be the charm for passage of the levy.

A 2.5 levy was defeated last November and again in a special election in December. The defeats led the school district to curtail bus service and put a crimp on spending of money for extra-curricular activities.

If the larger levy is approved today, it will be for increases in teachers' salaries. School leaders blamed voter apathy for the December defeat. Only 3,474 of 11,000 eligible persons voted.

Khanh Heads for Paris

ROME (AP) — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, ousted military strongman of South Viet Nam, left Rome by plane today for Paris, en route to New York, where he said he would present evidence at the United Nations of North Vietnamese military aid to the Communist Viet Cong.

Kenyon's Men Oppose Coed Plan

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP) — Most men at little Kenyon College don't want women interfering with their "cloistered monastic atmosphere."

Student leaders favor the establishment of a "co-ordinate women's college" adjacent to the 141-year-old, all-male school, a plan approved "in principle" Monday by the Board of Trustees. But most students disagree.

The women's college would be separate, but equal, the administration said. But many men disapprove. They're afraid the girls might distract them from mid-week studies.

William Hamilton, Student Council president from Cincinnati, thinks coeds are needed to improve the school, since many men don't want to attend an all-male school and the number of applicants is decreasing.

But he said most of the 650 students don't feel that way. "They like the cloistered, monastic atmosphere," he explained.

Peter White of Cleveland, president of the Interfraternity Council, said women would improve academic competition and remove the men from "austere isolation."

Fraternity men — about 74 per cent of the student body — "recognize it as a necessary evil," White said. "Those who don't see it as good, see it as inevitable."

Much of the staff, faculty and administration, would serve both Kenyon and the proposed women's college.

John Schofield of Philadelphia, Pa., and Tom Carr of Evanston, Ill., don't like the idea.

Both prefer dating on the weekends and studying hard during the week. They don't want female distractions.

Carr said most Kenyon men don't want the "obligation of dressing carefully and having study dates."

Most Kenyon men date girls from Denison, Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio State University, Chatham College and Lake Erie College for Women. The closest school with women students is about 25 miles.

Lake Erie College at Painesville, Carr said, is "only three hours hitchhiking time."

2 Depressed Area Bills Eyed

GOP Offers Own Version in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House had a choice today of two separate measures designed to provide an economic shot in the arm for depressed Appalachia areas.

One, backed by the Johnson administration and already passed by the Senate, would limit $1.1 billion of federal assistance to 355 counties in the 11 states of the Appalachian mountain area. These states are Alabama, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

Most of the money would be spent on new roads.

The other, sponsored by Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., and endorsed by the House GOP Policy Committee, carries a price tag of $995 million. It would be applicable to any area now eligible for aid under the public works acceleration act, regardless of location.

Under this bill, too, the bulk of the money provided by the federal government would be spent on highway construction.

The House probably will decide between the two Wednesday with preliminary indication that the administration-backed measure will be sent to President Johnson by the end of the week.

Democrats outnumber Republicans, 294 to 140, and 22 of the Republicans come from districts in the highlands region known as Appalachia.

The House started debate on the proposals Monday, with Republicans led by Cramer calling the Johnson bill "wasteful boondoggling" and Rep. James C. Cleveland, R-N. H., describing it as "an act of piracy—job piracy and industrial piracy."

Once Around Roundtown

RALPH WALLACE, Pickaway County dog warden, issued a reminder today that Circleville's ordinance requiring all dogs to be confined or on leash is now in effect.

The city ordinance provides owners of dogs allowed to run loose in the city between March 1 and Oct. 1 are subject to fine, Wallace emphasized.

River Pollution Halt Is Urged

CINCINNATI (AP)—Pollution of the Ohio River is a serious problem and must be stopped to meet the water needs of the future, a seminar was told yesterday.

"We must improve our water quality, particularly in Ohio to take care of the 'aquamanics' who want to fish and swim in it, and for many other reasons," S. L. Frost, executive secretary of the Ohio Water Commission, told the seminar attended by officials from throughout the nation.

R. A. Vanderhoff, project director of the Ohio river basin, said two of the biggest pollution problems now are wastes from oil field brine and increased use of electricity in the Ohio valley.

Ash Wednesday Services Mark Opening of Lent

Ash Wednesday, a significant date in the Christian year, will be observed this week in many churches throughout Circleville and Pickaway County.

The traditional day marks the beginning of the Lenten Season. Many special worship services will be conducted from Wednesday until Easter Sunday.

Here are some of the area churches planning to conduct Ash Wednesday services:

House Panel OKs LBJ's School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Education and Labor Committee today approved President Johnson's $1.3-billion school aid bill, designed to help both public and parochial schools.

Overriding nearly solid Republican opposition, the committee Democrats sent the bill toward a House vote, probably late this month, by a vote of 23-8.

Two Republicans joined the 21 committee Democrats in voting for the bill.

Most of the money is to be spent on schools serving children of low-income families, but 90 per cent of the nation's school districts would share in the $1 billion authorized by the bill for that purpose.

Other sections of the bill would provide textbooks and library books for both public and private schools, create supplementary education centers for use by all children in a community, and strengthen educational research.

Final approval today came after committee Democrats settled a squabble among themselves over the formula for distributing the $1 billion to the schools. The administration proposed giving each school district half its average per-pupil cost for each child from a family with an annual income of under $2,000. There are about five million such children between 5 and 17 years old.

To this, the committee added a provision that children from families on welfare, where the welfare payments boost income over $2,000, would also be counted. It would add 237,000 children to the eligible number, and increase the cost of the program by $63 million.

Ohio Marine Corporal Faces Court Martial

MANILA (AP)—Marine Cpl. James B. Thomas of Martins Ferry, Ohio, was to go on trial in a general court martial today on charges stemming from the killing of a Filipino at Subic Bay Naval Base.

Thomas, along with Cpl. Jesse Edwards of Sebastopol, Calif., is charged with negligent homicide and wrongful and willful discharging of a firearm. Thomas and Edwards were on guard duty when the Filipino was shot to death near the base last Dec. 13.

Class, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Weaver, will have charge of the 7:30 p. m. service.

Ash Wednesday Lenten Service will be held 7:30 p. m. at Trinity Lutheran Church. "A Violent Crowd" will be the theme of the sermon to be presented by the pastor, the Rev. Carl Zehner.

The annual Ash Wednesday Prayer Vigil will be held in the Youth Chapel of the First Methodist Church from 6 a. m. until midnight. The Woman's Society of Christian Service will conduct a special hour of meditation from 8-9 p. m. The Senior High MYF will have a planned meditation at 7 p. m.

St. Philip's Episcopal Church will hold a service of Holy Communion 7:30 p. m. The pastor is the Rev. William G. Huber.

The First Presbyterian Church, will hold a special service 7:15 p. m. according to the pastor, the Rev. Henry Walters.

Harsha Bill OK'd On Flood Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill offered by Rep. William Harsha, R-Ohio, to modify the flood control project for the Scioto River in Central and Southern Ohio.

The bill, passed Monday, would authorize the construction of local protective works at Chillicothe, at such time as the reservoirs on Alum, Mill, Big Darby and Deer Creeks are under construction.

It also provides that if the Mill and Alum Creek reservoirs are built by nonfederal interests, they shall be required to furnish the same flood control storage as proposed for the federal projects.

LBJ's Viet Nam Briefings Rally Backing of Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's White House briefings of Congress members appear to be paying off in increased vocal support for his course in South Viet Nam.

In a three-hour Senate debate which drew 13 senators into the fray Monday, Johnson got backing of one kind or another from six Democrats and four Republicans.

His policies were criticized by two, Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska. Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., maintained a neutral position.

Morse and Gruening were readying fresh criticisms today of what they have called aggressive American policies in the conflict with the Communist Viet Cong.

Both denounced the State Department's white paper on Viet Nam. Morse said it was a "Swiss cheese" because it was so full of holes and promised section-by-section attacks on it.

There was evidence, however, that a strong cadre of members who think Johnson is pursuing fundamentally the right kind of course in Viet Nam would be on hand to defend his strategy.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., suggested that what he called "the Building Ruins Under Probe

At Least 26 Die In Canada Blast

MONTREAL (AP) — Rescue workers and investigators dug today through the steaming, smoking ruins of what had been a three-story brick apartment building, leveled by an explosion that claimed at least 26 lives.

Chunks of rubble were lifted away by rescuers looking for persons still missing.

As many as 50 persons were injured by the blast in suburban LaSalle at breakfast-time Monday.

Detective Raymond Bourbonnais said 11 adults and 15 children were known dead.

Only 17 had been identified by midnight. The exact number of missing was not certain.

Authorities suspected the building's natural-gas heating system caused the explosion.

A woman told police she had gone to the building Sunday night to visit her sister and brother-in-law and told them, "This place smells as though it's full of gas."

Mayor Lionel Boyer of LaSalle said he had asked the Quebec Natural Gas Corp. to make a complete check of the heating system in all 24 buildings of the housing development. The gas supply to 96 other apartments in four buildings damaged by the explosion was cut off after the blast.

Boyer said the buildings' heating units should have been inspected once a month but that the gas firm apparently had been doing so only once a year.

Quebec Natural Gas officials said there was no proof natural gas caused the blast, but that an investigation was in progress.

Eighteen of the 24 apartments in the sprawling U-shaped building vanished in the blast, which created a 20-foot-deep crater filled with rubble. The building's six other apartments burned and were knocked down by power shovels.

Johnson Seeks Federal Funds To Aid Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to create a Department of Housing Affairs, proposed federal grants to help cities build basic community facilities, and asked federal funds to pay part of the rent of needy persons.

Johnson said in a special message he wants to begin now a program to help urban areas solve their many problems.

He told Congress the programs he proposed will require sound, long-range development programs by urban areas as a condition of federal assistance.

One of his requests was for $100 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1 for matching grants for building new basic community facilities.

Johnson said these grants would be contingent upon comprehensive, area-wide planning for future growth, and would be made only for projects consistent with such planning.

He described his proposal for what he calls rent supplement as the "most crucial new instrument in our effort to improve the American city."

"Up to now government programs for low- and moderate-income families have concentrated on either direct financing of construction; or on making below-the-market rate loans to private builders," he wrote. "We now propose to add to these programs through direct payment a portion of the rent of needy individuals and families."

"These homes themselves will be built by private builders, with Federal Housing Administration insurance, and where necessary, mortgage purchases by the Federal National Mortgage Association. The major federal assistant will be the rent supplement payment for each individual family."

Johnson said he was asking for the new department "to give greater force and effectiveness to our effort in the cities."

He said urban problems are of magnitude that demand representation at the highest level of government.

The proposal for creation of a cabinet-level housing department is a renewal of a plan unsuccessfully advanced by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Space Rocket Explodes on Launch Pad

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A 10-story-tall Atlas-Centaur space rocket exploded on its launch pad today as it was about to blast off in an attempt to hurl a model of the Surveyor space craft toward a make-believe moon.

The big rocket had barely struggled inches off the concrete and steel pad when it erupted into a massive fireball which sent flames and a huge cloud of black smoke hundreds of feet into the air.

Flaming fragments and blazing propellant from the shattered $9-million rocket sprayed several hundred yards in all directions. The approximately 80 members of the firing crew were protected inside a reinforced blockhouse several hundred feet from the pad.

The Flight Control Center said there were no injuries to personnel.

The launching was to have been an important rehearsal for gently landing a "live" Surveyor spacecraft on the moon next autumn to determine if the surface is strong enough to support astronaut expeditions.

The Atlas-Centaur was to have propelled the dummy spacecraft toward an empty spot in the sky 248,000 miles away where the moon will be next fall.

Britain Plans Campaign for Trade Union

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson flies to Germany next week with a British idea for joining Europe's two main trading communities in a single customs union.

Aides say Wilson will sound out Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government on the chances of closer cooperation between the six-nation Common Market and the seven-nation European Free Trade Association.

The British leader is said to favor a program of tariff cuts to be agreed by the two groups, and also the Common Market's possible entry into EFTA to form a single customs union.

A double purpose seems to lie behind Wilson's planned move: He wants to stave off the danger of a trade war in non-Communist Europe.

He wants, also to leapfrog the political initiative of his Conservative opposition which has revived pressure for a British link with Europe.

Wilson's talks also will take in the future of Britain's 51,000-man Rhine army, the project for an Atlantic nuclear force, and prospects for negotiating with the Soviet Union a European settlement, based on German reunification.

Compensation Aide Is Named by Saxbe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William Saxbe appointed Donald M. Colasur today as chief of his workmen's compensation section.

Colasur, a former FBI special agent and an assistant attorney general since Aug. 1, 1963, filled the vacancy created when Robert M. Duncan became Saxbe's chief counsel.

Duncan succeeded Larry Snyder who resigned to enter the private practice of law.

Chillicothe VA Patient's Death Being Probed

WYTHEVILLE, Va. (AP)—An investigation continued today into the death of a 41-year-old West Virginian who escaped Friday from a veterans hospital at Chillicothe, Ohio.

Authorities said John Alvin Curry of Logan, W. Va., stabbed himself in the chest with a knife as he stood along the Norfolk & Western Railway tracks here Sunday. He fell in front of an oncoming passenger train and was beheaded.

U.S., Russian

Some of Kosygin's sharpest comments on the war in Viet Nam came after a State Department white paper charged Saturday that Communist efforts in the south are being "inspired, directed, supplied and controlled" by North Viet Nam.

Kosygin said the white paper should be called a "black book" because "the dirty acts of the Americans cannot be recorded in a white book."

And in a speech Monday before talking about the Johnson visit, Kosygin said the United States would make a big error if it thought that "aggression" against North Viet Nam would go unpunished.

Kosygin's predecessor, Nikita Khrushchev came to the United States in 1959. President Dwight D. Eisenhower planned a trip to the Soviet Union in 1960 but it was called off after an American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union in May of that year.

Should Johnson go, he would be the first U.S. president to visit the Soviet Union since Franklin D. Roosevelt attended the Yalta conference shortly before his death in 1945.

Stock Prices Nudge Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market nudged slightly higher early this afternoon, ignoring headlines about the latest raid on North Viet Nam.

Trading was fairly active but the pace was slower than Monday's six-million-share rate.

Gold mining shares and other nonferrous metals were ahead pretty solidly.

Autos were mixed despite plans this month for the largest production in the industry's history.

Some of the merger-minded railroads continued to rise. Airlines showed some new strength. Aerospace defense issues responded only a little to the latest hostilities in Viet Nam.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 335.5 with industrials up .6, rails up .3 and utilities off .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .52 at 900.28.

Cincinnati Cleric

To Get Court Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court has agreed to review the latest conviction of the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, a civil rights leader from Cincinnati, on charges of obstructing a sidewalk in Birmingham, Ala., and refusing to obey a policeman's order.

The Rev. Mr. Shuttlesworth was sentenced in the circuit court of Jefferson County, Ala., to 180 days in jail and fined $100. His appeal to the supreme court contended there was no evidence to support the charges and that the Birmingham Ordinances applied in the case are vague and unconstitutional.

Adult Parole Authority For Ohio Is Completed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Adult Parole Authority organization has been completed and will be ready to function March 18 when the law creating it takes effect, Gov. James A. Rhodes announced today.

The authority was created by an enactment of the special session of the 105th General Assembly. It places within the Division of Correction, under supervision of Division Chief Maury C. Koblenz, a seven-man parole board, a parole supervision section and a probation development section.

The law also provides for an administration and research section, but for the time being it is expected the chief of the authority will handle the duties of that office.

Koblenz reported to the governor today that he has appointed, after consulting with Martin A. Janis, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, the following persons to staff the authority:

1. George F. Denton of Indianapolis to be chief of the authority. Denton, is assistant commissioner of the Indiana Department of Correction and former director of the Indiana Division of Parole. He has had 16 years in corrections work.

2. Ray E. Giannetta, Columbus, to be superintendent of parole supervision. Giannetta is Columbus District supervisor of the Ohio Bureau of Probation and Parole.

3. H. Richard Gooch, Akron, to be superintendent of probation development. Gooch now is officer-in-charge of the Akron office of the U. S. Probation Service. He has been in probation work 10 years.

The adult parole authority law expands the present Pardon and Parole Commission to seven members and renames it "Parole Board."

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Sarah Eldridge, 433 E. Mound St.; Mrs. Laura R. Toth, 1000 S. Shadyside; Mrs. Catherine Dooley, Willard.

Funeral services will be 1 p. m. Friday in the Deffenbach Funeral Home with the Rev. O. F. Gibbs officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 6 p. m. Wednesday.

Engineers Give Nod To Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The proposed billion-dollar Lake Erie and Ohio River canal project has been declared feasible by Brig. Gen. W. P. Leber, the Army Engineers' division engineer at Cincinnati.

The report is being sent to the board of engineers for rivers and harbors here for review. The board, after a study of the controversial project, will make its recommendations to Congress.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, predicted that the board will approve the big project and said prospects are good for action this year by Congress to authorize its construction.

"This is the most tremendous project in the world, when you hook up the five Great Lakes with the Ohio River," Kirwan said.

Leber said the cost of the proposed plan is estimated at $1,025,000,000. This would include $940 million in federal funds and $85 million non-federal. The annual maintenance and operating costs would be $83 million federal and $400,000 non-federal.

The canal would be 120 miles long. Ten locks are proposed, seven of them in the Ohio drainage basin.

The report said benefits to be realized from construction of the proposed project would consist of reduction in transportation costs to shippers.

February Turnpike Take Topp Year Ago

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio Turnpike revenues last month set a record for a February, even though there was one less day in the month than there was last year.

Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy said today February revenue was estimated at $1,587,000, or $30,000 more than the old record set last year when leap year gave February 29 days.

Shocknessy said unusually mild weather during portions of the month contributed to the good revenue showing.

MRS. LITTA ROBERSON

India Project Described at Kiwanis Meet

Mrs. Walter Heine, 109 E. Mound St., told of her sister's experiences as a welfare worker in India during a guest appearance at last night's regular meeting of the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

Mrs. Heine explained that her sister, Mrs. Litta Roberson, is associated with the "Literacy Village" program in India. The project was started by Mrs. Wealthy Fisher under sponsorship of World Education, Inc.

Mrs. Roberson, director of women's activities for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation for 15 years, started her new career last year following retirement from the FBF.

Her new line of work is carried on principally in Indian villages of 2,000 or less.

ACCORDING to Mrs. Roberson, personal and community needs uncovered in India have been tremendous. However, Mrs. Heine noted that her sister has resolved to meet the task as a challenge and as a means of providing her a new interest that is capable of absorbing her energies for years to come.

Mrs. Heine described some of the many problems faced by Mrs. Roberson and her co-workers. The great need for improved sanitation methods and facilities were outlined.

Mrs. Heine was introduced by Thomas Downing, Kiwanis program chairman. He previously was associated with Mrs. Roberson in the Farm Bureau organization.

Nasty Winterish Weather Plagues Wide Area of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather, with snow, rain, hail, sleet and stiff winds, swept across broad areas in the central and Southern sections of the nation today after a brief respite from last week's severe weather.

Blizzard conditions were reported in eastern Kansas, northwestern Missouri and parts of Minnesota. Heavy snow struck eight Midwest states and New Mexico Monday, with blizzards hammering areas from western Iowa and eastern Nebraska to Kansas.

Schools were closed, power was disrupted and many families were evacuated from their homes by flooding of rivers and streams caused by ice jams.

Snow amounts in parts of Minnesota and New Mexico ranged up to 14 inches. Snow tapered off in eastern New Mexico during the night but some major highways remained closed by heavy snow.

Heavy rain hit along the Gulf Coast east of the Mississippi Delta, and a belt of showers extended from southeast sections to northern Wisconsin.

Light snow fell southward into Oklahoma from the heavy-snow belt in eastern Kansas, northwestern Missouri and parts of Minnesota. Sleet and rain pelted wide areas in the north central region.

Cold air moving eastward and southward from Montana and the Dakotas dropped temperatures to near freezing in northern Texas. It was below zero in Montana and near zero in the Dakotas.

The clashing of cold air from the north and warm humid air from the Gulf of Mexico set off severe storms across the Texas-Louisiana border Monday. Hail measured up to three inches at Perkins, La., and nearly 3½ inches of rain drenched Kirbyville, Tex., in a one-hour period. Flooding was reported in parts of Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Missouri.

Cincinnati Youths Claim Kite Record

CINCINNATI (AP) — Up, up and up it went and two Madeira youths claimed a record for flying a kite nearly a mile.

Michael Hefflin, 19, and Carol Juengst, 16, reeled out a 15-cent kite on about 4,500 feet of string Sunday afternoon.

Hefflin, a university of Cincinnati freshman, said he believed the old record was "4,323 feet or thereabouts," set recently by kite flyers in California.

The small kite was still airborne Sunday night. The youths tied the string to a telephone pole.

"We could have let out more string," Hefflin said, "but we were afraid it would break. The strain was terrific."

Boys, Matches Mix; Invalid Woman Killed

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Young boys, matches and a pile of paper and rags led to tragedy in a one-story frame house destroyed by fire on a country road east of here Monday.

The fire, started when 5-year-old Norman Stutler dropped a match in the refuse, killed Mrs. Margaret Davis, his invalid grandmother who was asleep. She tried to crawl to safety when the blaze started, Stark County deputies said.

Meeting Scheduled

The Circleville Home and Hospital Board of Managers will meet 9:30 a. m. Friday in the home of Miss Mary Heffner, 154 E. Mound St.

Savings Bond Sales Listed

January sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Pickaway County totaled $64,630, according to William D. Radcliff, county chairman.

Radcliff said that the county has achieved 8 per cent of its 1965 quota with the total January sales.

In Ohio, sales totaled $27.8 million. These sales were based on three less reporting days than sales of January, 1964.

The state achieved 9 per cent of its annual sales quota of $309.7 million — one per cent under January, 1964.

U.S.-Vietnamese War Planes Hit Red Installations

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — More than 160 U.S. Air Force and Vietnamese warplanes battered military installations at two points in North Viet Nam today in a powerful sequel to the February reprisal raids.

American authorities said the strikes were a resounding success. However, four or more planes were shot down.

The targets were the port of Quang Khe and a munitions depot at Xom Dang.

Officials in Saigon estimated that from 70 to 80 per cent of the installations were destroyed. They said there will be further action against both as prime sources of Communist aggression against South Viet Nam.

Reflecting a stiffened attitude in Saigon and Washington, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said the new raids were not in retaliation for specific Viet Cong attacks on American installations, but joint actions "for the purpose of replying to continuous aggressive acts across the 17th Parallel."

Returning pilots said the ground fire was light and inaccurate.

Officials refused to say exactly how many of the participating planes were lost, but the pilots of three — one Vietnamese and two Americans — were recovered unhurt.

Other airmen were missing and a search continued for them.

The attack was the heaviest to date, with the force of fighters, fighter-bombers and bombers slightly exceeding that of the strike Feb. 11 at Chan Hoa and Chap Le.

More than 100 U. S. Navy jets, 28 Vietnamese fighter-bombers and 28 U.S. Air Force jets took part in the Feb. 11 operation.

Pilots over the munitions depot at Xom Dang reported seeing large secondary explosions, indicating their bombs had found their marks.

At the North Vietnamese port of Quang Khe, some 60 to 70 buildings and four naval installations on the north side of the river were attacked.

Quang Khe is 40 miles north of the border between North and South Viet Nam. Xom Dang is 10 miles north of the border and 15 miles east of the Laotian border.

The American mission in Saigon and the South Vietnamese government promised further actions against both, describing them as "installations that are being used by Hanoi to support its aggression against the people and territories of South Viet Nam."

Ten of the Vietnamese pilots said the Vietnamese planes flew into North Viet Nam at 2,500 feet and then dropped to 1,000 feet over Quang Khe to drop their bombs.

He said the bombers hit port buildings but did not attempt to destroy torpedo boats in Quang Khe harbor.

Kol Nguyen Kim Khanh, commander of the 41st Vietnamese Air Wing, said the raid on Quang Khe was ordered following the discovery that massive amounts of arms and am-

In-State Toll Rates Are Reduced

Reductions in in-state long distance calling rates took effect yesterday. The reductions apply to all General Telephone Co. of Ohio customers, according to Robert M. Wopat of Marion, company president.

The maximum charge for a three-minute station to station in-state call placed between 8 p. m. and 4:30 a. m. will be 40 cents, he noted. The "night rate" formerly applied to calls placed between 9 p. m. and 4:30 a. m.

In addition, the "after 8" rate will be in effect all day Sunday. The 6 to 8 p. m. evening rates will be in effect all day Saturday, he said.

Reductions of the in-state rates were called for by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO), following an order of the Federal Communications Commission that out-of-state, long distance rates be reduced. The out-of-state rates were reduced on Feb. 1.

The PUCO estimates that the lower rates on out-of-state and in-state, long distance calls will save Ohio telephone users $5 to $6 million a year, Wopat said.

A further rate cut on out-of-state calls has been ordered for April 1. A new rate schedule will reduce the transcontinental rate for a 3-minute station-to-station, daytime call to $2. from the present $2.25. Corresponding reduction for lesser distances beginning with 601 miles will also be made.

Wopat noted that General of Ohio customers will be affected by the April 1 rate reduction.

The daytime out-of-state reductions are designed with particular regard to benefiting small business as had been suggested by the FCC.

It has been estimated the April 1 reduction will cut some $25 million a year from the cost to U. S. telephone users of daytime long-distance telephone calls.

Not Fiction

On the day Sherlock Holmes reached Broadway in "Baker Street", a plot was unfolding nearby as bizarre as any that challenged Conan Doyle's master sleuth.

The villains were not after the crown jewels. Theirs was bigger game — the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell, which they proposed to destroy as symbols of America.

But thanks to undercover work by a rookie policeman the New York police and FBI were able to track them, not through windswept moor or foggy Limehouse street, but along the Henry Hudson Parkway to their dynamite cache in the Bronx.

The conspiracy, which had all the ingredients of a thriller, including international intrigue and a beautiful blonde, was thus foiled. The happy ending does not, however, conceal the fact that the dangers posed by terrorist factions are all too real.

That this particular threat was thwarted is due to the alertness and efficiency of those entrusted with the public safety. The need for continued vigilance is, as Holmes would say, elementary.

Pessimistic Note

Newspaper and magazine readers are getting more and more concerned about the population explosion. Well they might because it is statistically possible to prove that there will be no room left on earth for another human being by the year 2025.

Emigration to other planets is the answer, some people contend. Why else would all the time, money and effort be tossed into the space exploration pot if there were not a basic need to get people off this planet and on to another?

Now Willy Ley, former space-travel expert, has proved, statistically, that even this hope is a fruitless one.

Mr. Ley, in a recent article wrote that it would require passenger vehicles seating 100 persons leaving every minute just to stay even with the present population growth.

Young Actor Sings of Success

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—"My father is in politics," sang Peter O'Toole.

"A fine and upright man. My mother is an acrobat — 'And I do the best I can.'"

The philosophy of doing the best he can has worked well lately with the tall, yellow-haired effervescent young Irish actor, who says his other mottoes are:

"Kick it about until you lose it."

"To hell with the beggars."

"Stroll gently on."

"Wake me when it's over."

O'Toole has had a wonderful year. He starred in a film epic; he and his Welsh pal, Richard Burton, received Academy award nominations; and O'Toole had the landmark pleasure of turning down several hundred thousand dollars for 12 weeks of work in a film he didn't want to do.

That's pretty good for someone who was a newspaper copy boy at 14 and whose first take-home pay as an actor was $2.80 a week.

"Success has changed my way of life a lot," he remarked drily, forking into an egg-crowned plate of corned beef hash.

"Yep, now I can pay my bills and get a good seat in a restaurant. A few bob and entree — that's what success means to me."

"I must say it's nice to have a few pennies. It's nice to know that my family is guaranteed a roof and meals for life."

"My income when I started was whatever I could borrow. All that bunk about poverty being good for you when you're young is romantic nonsense. Poverty is a very, very unpleasant inconvenience."

"I use the films to make money," he said, "and the theater to have fun."

"I never take money out of the theater now. I don't play for the commercial theater, and I don't like long runs."

"Last year I was in a play for 16 weeks and got a total of sixteen shillings — 4 cents a week."

"But the theater is so precious to me that I thank God I can afford to do this. As religion has saved some people, the theater saved me. It took me out of the dark and put me into the light."

"I like the theater so well that I could move into one and live in it. I like the way they're built, the way they look, the way they smell."

Wholesale distribution to service hospitals, schools, factories, restaurants, and the ever growing number of vending machines is expected to exceed 11 billion units with payments just under $100 million.

Suppliers of individual consumers are aiming now at the young adult market. Few in this burgeoning sector of the population were brought up on precious bone china or fine crystal. Paper doesn't have to overcome prejudice or habit. The paper plates that first won wide acceptance in the vogue for outdoor living starting after World War II have now gone indoors. Social life is less formal. At the same time, patterns of the paper cups and plates themselves have been made more elegant.

Supermarkets have been a big help in the sales drive. The Paper Plate Association notes that distribution has been broadened as these outlets proliferated. The association says manufacturers have shown the markets that their paper products are high-profit, fast-turnover items.

Producers estimate that 80 per cent of direct sales to consumers are now made through grocery stores and 20 per cent through drug and variety outlets.

To entice the young adult market producers have offered a wide variety of new products, or variations on the old ones. Extensive research has gone into quality improvements. Producers contend that today's versions, compared with the previous ones, are on the sturdy side, don't get soggy, no longer taste or smell and many don't even feel like paper.

They also report that expanding sales volume has allowed them to make these improvements while bringing prices 15 to 10 per cent lower than two years ago.

LAFF-A-DAY

"You're probably wondering, 'Why does the garage look so empty?'"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE PARENTS of two badly spoiled brats suddenly came to their senses and sneaked off to Florida for a genuine rest — by themselves. Sunning on the beach, the wife murmured happily, "It's wonderful to get away from the kids, much as I love them, for just a few days, isn't it?" "Sure is," agreed the husband, "but just to make me feel at home, darling, would you please throw a few handfuls of sand in my face?"

A story from Nob Hill stars a gentleman and a very lovely companion who stepped into a telephone booth and set up a portable tape recorder which began playing typical office sounds: phones ringing, typewriters banging away, and a babble of business talk. Once the tape was playing to the gentleman's satisfaction, he winked at his girl, dialed a number, and announced sorrowfully, "I can't get home for dinner, darling. That confounded boss of mine has got me tied down again at the office."

When he hung up, he tucked the recorder under his arm, and he and his girl disappeared contentedly into the gloaming.

Poet Ogden Nash cherishes this note received from an enterprising high school student: "Dear Mr. Nash: I have gotten an assignment to do an essay on you and your works. Please send me your works."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Physical handicaps caused by birth defects and malformations, crippling diseases and accidents can take a vast toll in personal happiness and economic security.

But now many people of all ages, who might otherwise have been destined to spend their lives watching time "pass them by" are being helped to use that time in constructing a party to ultimate happiness.

The disabled person is being given his birthright, to participate as a dignified, useful, productive member of society.

Dr. Howard Rusk and his colleagues at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York City use every available means of communication in a relentless effort to gain public cooperation and understanding for the handicapped.

For years this plea was a call in the wilderness, and fell on deaf ears. The crippled were handicapped almost as much by society's refusal to give them a chance to use their talents and prove their capabilities, as they were by their physical condition.

Finally the call is being heard, echoed and re-echoed. At long last the public is being made to realize that among the physically handicapped there are vast reservoirs of untapped talents, skills, artistic creativity and intellectual potential.

The crippled are rapidly being granted the right to be judged, appreciated and depended upon according to their capabilities instead of their handicap.

The New York Service for the Orthopedically Handicapped maintains a community service program devoted to the physical and emotional rehabilitation of the handicapped. Their program of social and occupational re-education has been adopted by other community groups all over the country.

The New York Service for the Orthopedically Handicapped, and other similar organizations, have a prime objective: to demonstrate that a disabled person can be an asset to society, instead of a burden.

Working in close cooperation with the Board of Education and public health officials, this group has succeeded in completely integrating crippled children and young adults into a regular summer camping program.

Another exciting departure from the restricted activities of the crippled occurred when a group of severely handicapped wheel chair patients — children, adolescents and adults — took a nationwide travel tour.

The project, which was carried out by the New York Service for the Orthopedically Handicapped, again illustrates the limitless resourcefulness and courage of the handicapped.

The dedicated efforts of many such organizations all over the country have made gratifying progress in rehabilitating the handicapped. But their greatest contribution has been in opening the doors of understanding, respect, opportunity and appreciation for thousands of useful, talented human beings.

Even more than the handicapped themselves, society reaps the greatest benefits by allowing these people to use their skills and give to their families, their jobs and their communities the benefits of their physical and intellectual capabilities.

Junk vs Beauty

GARY, Ind.—Using eyes that have been conditioned by Lady Bird Johnson, who tells her husband she is "driven mad" by the sight of automobile graveyards, I must admit that the President's wife has something.

All over the Middle West, whether you are driving into a quiet town like Huntington, Indiana, or approaching a metropolis like Milwaukee in Wisconsin, you see the rusting skeletons of cars piled helter-skelter as if an earthquake had struck them. It's a sight to make sore eyes, all right — and the Scrap Institute says there are 8,000 auto junkyards across the nation.

Alas! It is almost impossible to believe that anything is going to be done about it. Detroit is destined soon for a ten million car year as a matter of course, and the rate of car junking will rise from around five million a year to seven or eight million. Meanwhile steel making grows more and more efficient, and the proportion of scrap used in producing a new metal goes lower and lower, which means the auto junkyards will be piled higher and higher.

A new steel industry is growing up in this country, concentrated around the lower end of Lake Michigan in South Chicago and northern Indiana. Aside from its accelerating failure to absorb scrap metal, the new industry threatens some of the natural beauty of the Indiana dunes. It also threatens a steel war, for the State of Indiana would like to take some lake front property belonging to Inland Steel, a Chicago firm, to compensate for the gouge in the Lake Michigan shore that must be made for the proposed new Burns Harbor east of the city of Gary. Bethlehem Steel and Midwest Steel, which are building at the Burns Harbor development site, would be the beneficiaries of the trade.

The State of Indiana insists that it will be preserving enough dune land in its existing waterfront state park to satisfy the lovers of nature even after Burns Harbor has created a huge new steel complex. This does not mollify the "save the dunes" people, who recall that Stephen T. Mather, the first director of the National Park Service, had a grandiose dream of a twenty-five-mile-long stretch along the southern end of Lake Michigan devoted to the preservation of a unique natural phenomenon.

Indiana is still a state of much bucolic charm, and its citizens are not deficient in a love of beauty, as their campaign for the preservation of the region's covered bridges attests. But many of them tend to be philosophical about the dunes squabble. The state needs the great new basic steel industry, for it is fast becoming a huge metal working area. In recent years metal working businesses have accounted for more than half of the new capital expenditures in the state.

So some of the dunes are doomed by workaday necessities. Inland Steel's Indiana Harbor Works and the Gary Works of U. S. Steel are among the three biggest steel plants in the nation. Bethlehem, trying to catch up in the northern Indiana steel race, is spending two billion dollars on its Burns Harbor development. Indiana has already passed Pennsylvania to become the Number One steel producer of America.

The impact of the shifting steel business means that Lady Bird Johnson is up against a behemoth in her attempts to clean up America. The new mills of northern Indiana will be using taconite and Jasper pellets from Minnesota and northern Michigan to make pig iron. The taconite pellets produce what is called an "even chemistry feed." The new basic oxygen process for steel making uses less scrap iron and more clean pig iron to turn out its metal for washing machines, buildings, and cars.

Especially cars. Where are you going to put them when they grow old and die? The cost of transporting them to the coasts and dumping them into the sea would be prohibitive. The scrap industry, suffering now from low scrap prices, would go bust if it had to build fences around 8,000 junkyards. One fears that Lady Bird Johnson is flinging herself against an immovable object in her crusade to clean up America. What is needed is an inventor to find a cheap way of putting scrap back into the making of the nation's steel.

Teen-Age Pupil Advises Parents 'New Math' Is Really Quite Easy

EDITOR'S NOTE — It is simpler than it looks — the "new math." Just learn a few basic principles and the rest comes easy. Dear parents: If you don't think so, read the following second of five articles on the new math by 14-year-old Katie Mueller, of Redlands, Calif., now in her third year of the system being increasingly adopted in American schools.

By KATIE MUELLER
Written for Associated Press
Let's start this lesson in the "new math" with a very difficult problem.

Is your mind in a mathematical gear? All right, here it is: 5 times — equals 5.
It wasn't really difficult. But, in just the same way, many people think the new math is difficult and confusing, when in reality it can be much simpler than the old math.
The above problem is an example of another one of the principles of the new math, the principle of multiplying by PM1. We all know, of course, that one times any number produces the same number.

But PM1 really does help in solving some math problems. For instance, when used in the distributive principle of multiplication over addition, it has a big advantage.
I can just imagine what you're thinking now: "If I only knew what the distributive principle of multiplication over addition is, I'd be all set."
I'll try to explain.
Suppose you were given this problem to solve: 14 times 92

plus 14 times 8.
Since mathematicians agree to multiply before adding, you might try it this way: 14 times 92 equals 1,288, and 14 times 8 equals 112, and 1,288 plus 112 equals 1,400.
This is unnecessarily hard, however, if you realize that the distributive principle of multiplication over addition — DPMA — can be used here.
Look at it this way: you have 14 times 92 plus 14 times 8. Combine your 14's and you have 14 times — 92 plus 8. This is really 14 times 100, which equals 1,400.
By using DPMA, a lot of hard work is eliminated.
If you insist on seeing it in mathematical terms, the DPMA can be stated this way: for each number X, Y, and Z, X times Y plus X times Z equals X times — Y plus Z.
Let's go back for a minute to the principle of multiplying by 1 — PM1. I said PM1 may be used in DPMA. Here's an example:
9 times, 8 plus 2, plus 8 plus 2, equals
9 times, 8 plus 2 plus 1 times 8 plus 2 — this is PM1 — equals
10 times, 8 plus 2 — this is DPMA — equals
10 times 10 equals 100.
There are many other principles taught in the modern math in addition to PM1 and DPMA. We had four in the first article of this series, remember? They were:
Commutative principle for multiplication — CPM for each number X and Y, X times Y equals Y times X.
Associative principle for multiplication — APM for each number X, Y, and — X times Y — times Z equals X times, Y times Z.
Here are some other common principles:
Principle of multiplying by 0 — PM0 for each number X, X times 0 equals 0.
Principle of adding 0 — A0 for each number X, Y plus 0 equals X.
I have tried in these first two articles to explain some of the first things learned by students of the new math. Of course, there are many other things to be learned. One of the most is "real" numbers. I'll try to explain that in the next article.
Until then, have fun trying to understand this one!
Next: "Real" numbers.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, being an expert with Congress, which means a combination of conciliator and arm-twister, could hope for an undisturbed and shining record if all he had to worry about were his plans and proposals for this country.

But now in Viet Nam he's in a box not of his own building and the rules are just the opposite from what he's used to. He can't telephone the Communists in Hanoi or Peking. If he tries to be conciliatory, they'll think it's weakness. And he doesn't know how they'll react to too much arm-twisting.

He inherited the problem, has had to live with it through the 15 months of his presidency, and could only hope as he saw the war deteriorate that somehow it might work out all right. But it didn't. It got worse.

Now it occupies the center of the world stage and for weeks has dwarfed all other news at home. He has had a lot of support, from Democrats and Republicans alike, for his increasingly tough policy in stepping up the war against the Reds but he knows this can be a very temporary approval.

All he has to do is remember President Harry S. Truman.

It has been only 15 years since Truman, with complete forcefulness and prompt decision sent American armed forces into South Korea to stop the Red invasion from the north, a duplicate of what has happened in Viet Nam. And Johnson knows what happened to Truman.

At first he got tremendous support, with some exceptions like Sen. Robert A. Taft, from both parties in Congress. But as the war dragged on, Americans were killed, no victory was in sight, much of the approval began to melt. The Republicans turned on him, and Korea became a major issue in the 1952 presidential campaign.

It must have been a bitter realization for Truman that one of Dwight D. Eisenhower's most popular thrusts in his campaign against Adlai E. Stevenson was to pledge, if elected, to go to Korea to seek an early and honorable end to the war. He did go, and eventually there was an armistice, leaving Korea cut in half as before.

At this point, when he's intensifying the Vietnamese war, Johnson can't tell whether it will get worse and bigger or whether the show of toughness, which is arm-twisting on a big scale, will chill the Communist blood.

He couldn't very well pull the American forces out, no matter how he tried to explain it, without tacitly admitting an American defeat and leaving all Southeast Asia open to seizure sooner or later by the Red Chinese.

Further, if he pulled out, Republicans in the next campaign would probably accuse him of chickening out. But if the war gets worse, and American losses pile up, reaction at home against such a price for saving such a far-off place as South Viet Nam will probably increase as it did in the Korean War.

If the President's present tough policy works — meaning, if the Communists decide not to enlarge the war and agree to a negotiated peace — Johnson's prestige will benefit. But even this might be only a temporary benefit.

For if there is some kind of truce, and if then the Americans pull out and communism takes over all Viet Nam, Johnson faces the prospect of having to defend himself against the charge that he was humbugged by the Reds.

So, no matter what he does in this situation, there's a good chance he will suffer some damage politically, either a lot or a little, even though no one in sight is offering a fool-proof solution that won't bring political repercussions.

Since Johnson is a man who tries to figure all the angles, particularly the political ones, it's no wonder he has stayed pretty mum these past few weeks when advice and admonitions were hitting him from all directions.

Birth Rate In U.S. Drops During 1964

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 4,054,000 babies were born in this country in 1964, about 1 per cent below the 4,081,000 in 1963, the Public Health Service reports.

But the service added that the decline in the birth rate, which began in 1957, tapered off last year.

The provisional birth rate for 1964 was 21.2 per 1,000 population, a reduction of less than 2 per cent from the rate of 21.6 for 1963. This compared with a decline of 3.6 per cent in the rate between 1962 and 1963 and a drop of 4.3 per cent between 1961 and 1962.

The birth rate stood at 25 per 1,000 population in 1957, before the steady decline began.

The lowest birth rate between 1915 and 1963 was 16.6 for 1933 and the highest was 25.8 for 1947.

State Welfare Setup Change To Be Offered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Administration proposals for reorganizing the state welfare department are being unveiled today in the Ohio House as the Senate decided what to do next in its time-consuming squabble over gubernatorial appointments.

Rep. Stanley J. Aronoff, R-Hamilton, said the welfare measure is designated to streamline operations of the department and make Ohio eligible for additional funds under four federal welfare programs.

Among other things, the measure would place additional responsibilities on county welfare departments and permit the state to take over county programs if county officials refuse to comply with state laws or rules.

The Legislative Service Commission analysis of the measure said it also would outline financial responsibility of the state and counties for public assistance and require all recipients be paid by state warrant with the exception of poor relief, which would be paid by county warrant. Counties also would pay their own administrative costs.

Little was done Monday night at a 15-minute floor session at which it was obvious Senators bled for more sparring on administration appointments. The party leaders declined to say, but hinted the feud will resume today.

The fireworks began last Wednesday when Democrats, holding a temporary 16-15 edge because of the absence of Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, blocked four Republican appointments by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Hoffman is recovering from surgery and could be out several more weeks, which means Democrats may call additional appointments up for confirmation consideration whenever they please. Seven are pending in the clerk's office, six involving Republicans.

The Senate received three bills during the brief floor session, including one that would have far-reaching ramifications on labor disputes if enacted. Three Democrats offered the proposal which would prohibit judges from issuing injunctions in strikes until after a hearing involving both sides.

The House gave unanimous approval to a pair of bills offered by Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee, who estimated they would provide a state windfall of more than $500,000.

He explained the proposals would set a two-year deadline for cashing state checks and authorize the state to cancel uncashed checks dating back as far as 1948. Most of the uncashed checks are for small amounts.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a measure setting penalties for bail jumpers released on their own recognizance.

Lawmakers returned from weekend recess with only a handful of new bills. Seven more house bills brought the total in that chamber to 369 while senators received three, boosting their total to 146.

Minimum qualifications for all peace officers in Ohio would be established under a measure offered by Rep. Walter E. White, R-Allen, Rep. Ralph D. Cole Jr., R-Hancock, and others.

Other new House bills would give juvenile courts the right to recommend whether juveniles charged with a capital crime should be tried as adults — facing a possible death penalty, and redefine concealed weapons law to include tear gas guns or pens.

Birth Control Debate Faces British Cardinal

LONDON (AP) — Britain's new cardinal — John Heenan, Archbishop of Westminster — faces a revolt among some of his clergy over Roman Catholic attitudes toward birth control.

Last year Archbishop Frank Roberts, a Jesuit who was formerly archbishop of Bombay, criticized Church doctrine in the magazine Search.

Dr. Heenan, who had just become head of the English hierarchy, responded that the Church's present teaching — opposing all but natural birth control methods — was God's law and could not be altered.

But Archbishop Roberts has not remained silent. He contributed, along with seven laymen, to "Objections to Roman Catholicism," a book that takes a sharply critical look at some present aspects of Church teaching. Again the archbishop picked the subject of birth control.

He has also written the foreword for an English edition of another collection of essays, published in New York under the title "Contraception and Holiness." This book is described in advance publicity here as a frontal attack on the Church's whole birth control philosophy.

Among laymen, Dr. Anne Biezanek, 36, mother of seven, is fighting her own battle with the clergy by refusing to close a birth control clinic she ran in the heavily industrialized Liverpool area. For six months she presented herself to take Communion in her parish church but was passed by the priest. Then she came to London, attended Mass at Westminster Cathedral and received Communion.

"Whatever happens my clinic will stay open," she says. "I believe I am doing God's work in helping Catholics to limit the size of their families."

Two young pastors braved the certain wrath of their superiors and spoke out on contraception while Cardinal Heenan was out of the country getting his red hat in Rome.

The Rev. Arnold McMahon, 25, teacher in a seminary, wrote in the Birmingham Post:

"I have come to believe that not only do many Catholics use contraceptives — I believe they have the right."

Now he is in retreat — cut off from the world in prayer and meditation. His order, the Divine Missionary Word, issued a statement disavowing his views.

Father McMahon's plight spurred the Rev. Joseph Cocker, 26, to similar action. He wrote in a Roman Catholic newspaper:

"I completely support what Father McMahon said although I realize I must face the consequences."

He was removed from his Isle of Wight parish, banned from preaching and sent into retreat at Winchester.

Court View Is Asked in Domer Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has been asked to decide whether Robert K. Domer, Canton businessman under death sentence for murder, should receive a new trial.

Prosecutor Norman J. Putman of Stark County appealed to the high court from an 8th district appellate court decision that Domer is entitled to a new trial.

Domer, 45, was convicted of killing Howard K. Riddle, 54, Akron fruit peddler, whose charred body was found in Domer's automobile in April 1963.

Domer was accused of killing Riddle in an attempt to fake his own death so that "beneficiaries" could collect $288,000 in insurance.

Domer was convicted of first-degree murder without a recommendation of mercy by a three-judge court on Nov. 29, 1963. Absence of a mercy recommendation made the death sentence mandatory.

In reversing Domer's conviction, the appellate court said he had been denied right to counsel.

Putman said the question of right to counsel was not raised in the trial court nor assigned as error and argued in the court of appeals.

Putman also asserted the appellate court ignored the trial court's right to find that Domer was "compelled to be a witness against himself" after taking the stand to testify to his own defense and undergo cross-examination.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Yeas, Nays on Privacy

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed LIKES PRIVACY made me realize how many people have the mistaken idea that the landlord or superintendent has some special right to enter a tenant's apartment. I used to think so, too, until my apartment was robbed. The police checked and said it was a "key job." I told the police that the only one who had a key to my apartment other than myself was the superintendent, and I only gave him a key because I was told that according to law I had to. The officer told me to change my locks and give no one else a key — that everyone had a right to his privacy. I guess he was right because nobody has bothered me for a key and I still live here.

BINGHAMPTON

DEAR ABBY: I don't care what the law says. I am one landlord who insists on having a key to every one of my apartments. I own a 20-family apartment house, and in the lease it says that I am entitled to a key. It is my property and I have a right to see that it is properly cared for and safe for everyone at all times. Should there be a gas leak, a water pipe broken, or a fire in one of the apartments while the tenant is out, I want to be able to get in there, and fast. Anyone who rents from me will just have to trust me. Otherwise he can go find another place to live.

INSISTS ON A KEY

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter signed LIKES PRIVACY, and thought my similar experience might interest you. I came home unexpectedly one morning and surprised my landlady, who was snooping around in my apartment. I consulted my employer as to my right to lock my apartment and not give anyone a duplicate key. I learned that since I had no lease, and paid rent from month to month, I was under no obligation to give my landlady a key. Incidentally, while the lock was being changed, the landlady called the police. But they told her that they were without power to demand a key.

NO KEY TO ANYONE
DEAR NO KEY: Is your employer a lawyer? If not, I would not regard his word as "law."

DEAR ABBY: Just because a landlord tells you that he wants a key to your apartment in case it rains so he can get in to close your windows doesn't mean you have to give him one. If a real emergency occurs, he can break the door down. I have had my fill of landlords, landladies and apartment "help" having access to my apartment. I live in an apartment to which there is only one key — mine. And I have a heavy brass bolt and chain which I use on the inside for double protection while I am home.

Nobody's Fool

DEAR NOBODY'S FOOL: Your brass bolt and chain protects you while you're in. If you can't trust your landlord not to rifle your apartment if you're out, you'd better hunt up a new apartment. If I were a landlord I wouldn't want to "break down a door" (my own) because some scatterbrained woman left the iron on and went away. A key in the hands of a landlord could be good insurance as well as a threat.

Birthday Party Is Conducted

Jeffrey Lyn Rhymmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rhymmer, Stoutsville, was honored on his fourth birthday with a party give by his mother.

The afternoon was spent playing games. Prize winners were Vickie Hunt, Joyce Fogler, Kim Gains and Malinda Peters.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with a pink and blue color theme.

Others present were, Mike Kelly, Route 1, Stoutsville; Dennis Kaiser, Tarlton; Mrs. May Rymer and Mrs. Lillie Morrison, grandmothers of the honored guest, Venita Rhymmer, Leewood Rhymmer and Delora Brungs, all of the residence, and Mrs. Ronnie Gains.

Gifts were sent by Bobbie Hubble and Mrs. Richard Ballard, Tarlton.

Mrs. Conrad Observes 84th Birthday

Mrs. Maud Conrad, E. Main St., who observed her 84th birthday, was honored last night when a group of friends gathered at her home.

The evening was spent visiting. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Those present included, Mrs. Cora Dagon, Mrs. Maud Redman, Mrs. James Brigner, Mrs. Harry Holbrook, Mrs. Matilda Stambaugh, Mrs. Harvey Kirby, Mrs. Roy Ferguson, Mrs. Richard Humble, Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mrs. Hattie Montgomery, Mrs. Arthur England, Mrs. Muriel Lane and Mrs. McClellan Clark.

Mrs. Marion's Class Plans Annual Banquet

The date for the annual Mothers Banquet was set for May 31 when members of Mrs. Marion's Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church met last night in the home of Mrs. Warren Harmon.

Mrs. Clark McFarland presented Scripture and reviewed the book, "No Two Ways About It" by Dale Evans. Mrs. Forrest Thomerson, president, conducted the business meeting. Reports were given by Mrs. Olan Bostwick, treasurer, Mrs. Berman Wertman, secretary, Mrs. David Goldschmidt, sun shine, and Mrs. Milton Griest, ways and means. Lenten envelopes were distributed.

Letters were read from Mrs. George Marion and reports given of calls made to her. Mrs. Herbert Southward announced the Prayer Vigil to be held Ash Wednesday.

Games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Bostwick and Mrs. Goldschmidt. Refreshments were served to 17 members by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Irwin Reid, Mrs. Elmer Yeatts and Mrs. Roger Lozier.

Booster Class Holds Banquet

"Hearts in Tune" was the theme for a banquet held recently in Boyer's Restaurant, Lancaster, by the Fairview EUB Booster Class.

Speaker for the evening was A. V. Kauffman, public relations man for General Telephone Company of Ohio, who gave a talk concerning the future of telephone service and how electronics changed the overall picture. The group was informed that the "Photophone" is operational in several cities in the United States.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Muck, Mr. and Mrs. William Alvey, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Blanton, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kull, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cordle, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Frazier.

Novel New Beauty Brushes

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Brushes are real big in the beauty picture. They offer the master stroke with make-up and cleansers, say the experts.

One company, for example, has introduced a delightful little brush, a snowy white, downy soft version of the kind of brush men use for shaving. It's designed to be used to apply a new super-cleansing preparation.

First, skin is moistened with warm water. Then a cap of the cleanser is poured into the palm of the hand. The brush is used to lather it up on the skin.

You can go round and round with the brush, back and forth. Used at an angle, it does a good job around the nose and at the hairline.

Another novel brush—it telescopes—is featured with a complexion-coloring product.

The brush comes in a tiny gold cylinder that rather resembles a slightly elongated lipstick case. The cap is removed and placed over the base of the case to extend the handle. Then the inside barrel is pushed down and the brush emerges ready to use.

It's applied to brush on a complexion-brightener in pressed powder form that's available in natural shades of pink, rose, peach and amber.

The pink shade, for example, can be used to accent features, while the amber can be applied to shadow a too prominent area or feature.

A third brush, this one with bristles cut on the diagonal, comes with a new pressed powder brow make-up.

The diagonal brush follows the brow line evenly and smoothly, enabling the user to do a neat shaping job.

The brow make-up comes in black, dark brown, light brown and charcoal gray.

The lipstick brush is still deemed essential for a clearcut outline. So is the artist-type brush used to apply liquid and or cake eye liner.

The neat little mascara brush hasn't been improved upon recently, but there is one new idea here. A well-known cosmetic house packages its creamy waterproof mascara with two brushes.

The idea is to use the clean, dry brush to separate lashes so they won't cling together after the mascara application.

The same company also features an eyebrow brush that's to be used after brows are made-up to groom them into a neat line.

Tutor Urges Youth Revolt, Is Suspended

CLEVELAND (AP) — Donald Freeman, a junior high school teacher and writer for a Negro nationalist publication, has been suspended from his teaching job because he admitted advocating the formation of "cadres of youth for revolt."

Freeman, 26, a teacher at Kennard Junior High on the East Side, was suspended Monday until further notice by Cleveland School Superintendent Paul W. Briggs.

The teacher, who joined the Cleveland system in 1961, was questioned in an all-day session by Briggs, school Counsel William T. McKnight and Darian Smith, assistant superintendent for personnel and human relations.

Freeman has written for "Black America", the official organ of Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) and has said he used his East Cleveland home as the subscription headquarters here for the magazine. RAM describes itself as the black liberation front of the United States.

Briggs said Freeman, a Negro, "voluntarily gave answers in which he implicated himself as being involved with others in holding meetings and issuing statements of an inflammatory nature for the announced purpose of forming cadres of youth for revolt."

State Aide Is Sought For Summer Schooling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio teachers attending summer school to improve their qualifications would receive free room rent and tuition under a bill up for introduction today in the Ohio House.

Reps. David D. Albritton, R-Montgomery, and Walter E. Powell, R-Butler, both teachers, will introduce the measure which would provide the benefits to teachers who have signed a contract for the coming school year or who are on continuing service status.

Life Sentence Meted In Cincinnati Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Frank M. Gusweiler Monday convicted Lafayette Mack, 30, of second degree murder and sentenced him to life in prison. Mack was found guilty of the rifle slaying of Albert P. Simpson, 22, in Mack's apartment last Sept. 8.

Teays Valley-Linden Game Due at Columbus Coliseum

Teays Valley High School will challenge Linden McKinley in Class AA Central District tournament action 9 p. m. Thursday at the Fairgrounds Coliseum in Columbus.

The game was moved from Arlington High School, where it was originally scheduled, because of the lesser seating capacity at the gymnasium there.

Richard Snouffer of Circleville, president of the Central District Athletic Board, reported his panel made the decision since much of the crowd at Otterbein during the first round action was made up of Teays Valley and Linden fans.

"I'm real glad they made the change," Viking Coach Russ Gregg said today. "They have remodeled the Coliseum and I understand the lighting is much better and the dressing rooms have been improved."

UCLA Presses Michigan '5' Wolverines Keep No. 1 Poll Rating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The UCLA Bruins are continuing their spirited pursuit of the Michigan Wolverines in The Associated Press' college basketball rankings. But time is running out for the West Coast team which is seeking to finish on top for the second straight year.

Michigan was the runner-up to the Bruins last season. In this week's poll, the next-to-last one of the year, the Wolverines collected 31 first-place votes and 399 points while UCLA had four votes for the top position and 362 points.

Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. and the balloting by 41 regional experts was based on games through last Saturday.

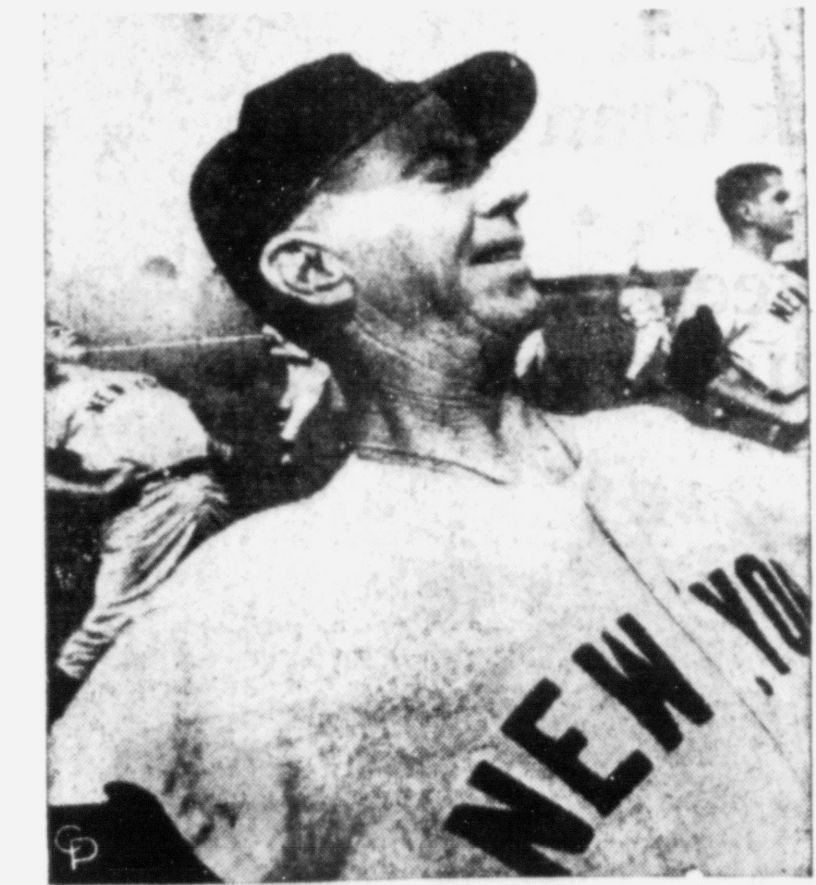

Michigan upped its record to 19-2 last week, just managing to sneak past Illinois 80-79 after defeating Minnesota 91-78. UCLA won handily over Stanford 83-67 and California 83-68 for a 22-2 mark.

The Wolverines have three games remaining in regular season, against Wisconsin tonight, Minnesota Saturday and Ohio State next Monday. UCLA closes its campaign this week-end with back-to-back matches against Southern California.

St. Joseph's, Pa., held third place. The Hawks have a 24-1 slate after beating LaSalle 93-85 last week. Providence, although it lost its first game of the season, 71-57 to Villanova, remained in fourth place.

The Top Ten, with win-loss records through Saturday, Feb. 27, and total points:

1. Michigan	19-2	399
2. UCLA	22-2	362
3. St. Joseph's, Pa.	24-1	321
4. Providence	20-1	236
5. Vanderbilt	20-3	203
6. Minnesota	17-4	146
7. Davidson	24-2	136
8. Duke	18-4	103
9. Villanova	19-4	67
10. Brigham Young	19-5	46

Starters for Teays Valley will include Mitch Clay, who many area basketball observers feel is one of the most underrated players on the team, Dave Roese and Bill Fortner. Fortner and Roese are the two leading scorers. The guards are Doug Mallory and Gerald Green.

TWO of the top members of the Viking bench are Gary Wilson and Gayle Fosnaugh, both forwards.

Teays Valley is the lone Pickaway County representative remaining in Class AA tournament competition.

Other games Thursday find Columbus West playing Worthington at 6 p. m. and Eastmoor tangling with Hamilton Twp. at 7:30 p. m.

All-Big Ten Team Is Hot On Scoring

CHICAGO (AP) — The 1965 All-Big Ten basketball team named by the Associated Press Monday has exceptional scoring and rebounding, with Cazzie Russell of Michigan and Lou Hudson of Minnesota unanimous choices.

Dave Schellhase of Purdue was only one point short of unanimity in a poll of AP sports writers in the Big Ten area. The team is rounded out by 6-8½ Skip Thoren of Illinois and 6-7 Bill Buntin of Michigan, the only seniors. The rest are juniors.

Russell, Schellhase and Buntin are holdovers from the 1964 team.

All five players are averaging more than 20 points in conference action, headed by Schellhase with 27.7 in his first 11 games, Russell 26.5 and Hudson 24.4.

Heading the second team, and missing the first by only one point, were Illinois' Tal Brody and Indiana's Tom Van Arsdale. They were joined by Dick Van Arsdale of Indiana, Chris Pervall of Iowa and Stan Washington of Michigan State.

Dick Ricketts and Ron Sepic of Ohio State were among the honorable mention picks.

Pistons Spoil Homecoming For Lucas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jerry Lucas' homecoming was a Buckeye ball — until the Detroit Pistons crashed the gate.

The Pistons, driving for a National Basketball Association playoff spot, ripped Cincinnati 130-110 Monday night at Columbus, Ohio, despite an outstanding performance by the Royals' Lucas, the city's favorite son.

The former Ohio State All-American, playing his second game after being sidelined three weeks with a chest injury, scored 20 points and grabbed 18 rebounds. But the Royals were hopelessly behind when he fouled out with a little over five minutes remaining.

Reggie Harding, with 21 points and 14 rebounds, led the way as the Pistons moved to within 2½ games of third-place Baltimore in the race for the final Western Division playoff berth. Ray Scott had 21 points and Detroit player-coach Dave DeBusschere 18.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — For the second straight year, 52-year-old Sam Snead is the king of American senior golfers — in a breeze. And who is going to nudge The Slammer off the throne?

Ben Hogan, now past 50 and eligible for the Teacher Trophy championship, might have done it this year. But Hogan refused to try, declaring that "I do not consider myself a senior golfer."

A record 18 pacers and trotters won more than $100,000 each in 1964. The previous year only 15 won that amount.

SPORTS The Circleville Herald, Tues. Mar. 2, 1965 7 Circleville, Ohio

Bob Pettit Is Retiring As Pro Basketball Star

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Pettit, who was to the St. Louis Hawks what Stan Musial was to the baseball Cardinals, announced his retirement from professional basketball Monday.

The announcement came during a news conference at which Hawk owner Ben Kerner broke into tears and could not finish his speech honoring Pettit.

Pettit, an 11-year National Basketball Association veteran, said he hoped to see action in the Western Division playoffs this season. But, he said he wasn't sure he would and added: "We'll know more about that next week when the doctor examines my leg."

The 32-year-old forward, who was the first to score 20,000 points in the NBA, injured his right knee in a game earlier in the year. He has been sidelined for 22 of the 69 Hawk games this season after 10 years of being known as an iron man in the punishing sport.

The balding, 6-foot-9 Pettit has scored a record 20,841 points in the NBA. He cracked the 20,000-point barrier on Friday, Nov. 13, in Cincinnati.

"I think I could play professional basketball next year and play well," said Pettit, who was Rookie of the Year in 1954 when the Hawks were at Milwaukee.

But, he continued: "In my heart, I feel that this is the correct time for me to step aside."

"I have established certain standards for myself and I could never be content to play below my own standards," Pettit said.

Pettit has been named to the all-league team 10 straight times and to the East-West NBA All-Star game every year he has been in the NBA.

Pettit said he wanted to learn the banking business.

The two-time All-American at Louisiana State University is the vice president of a Baton Rouge, La., bank and has other business interests.

"His records convey the great player he was but not the wonderful person he is," said Kerner. Then the Hawk owner broke down and handed his short, typewritten speech to Mike Aubuchon, the Hawks' attorney. Aubuchon finished reading the speech while Kerner sobbed and dabbed at his eyes with a handkerchief.

Pettit, who reportedly makes $40,000 a year to play basketball, did not say when he decided to retire. It is assumed that his injury played an important part in the decision and Pettit said marital plans "had something to do with it."

Pettit said he had no interest in coaching basketball at either the pro or college level.

Central State, Cedarville Set For Joust

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten Central State and tough Cedarville posted easy victories Monday night to move into tonight's finals of the NAIA District 22 tournament.

Another showdown tonight will match Otterbein and Akron at Columbus in the finals of the Ohio Conference Tournament. The winner represents the conference in the NCAA college division tourney.

Two other top Ohio clubs—Miami and Steubenville—posted easy victories in warmups for their post-season play, which comes up later.

In the only other Ohio game on the schedule, Indiana never trailed and trounced Ohio State, 110-90, despite a 32-point output by the Buckeyes' Dick Ricketts.

Central State's 79-48 triumph over Ashland was its 24th straight. Cedarville handled Findlay, 89-77, to run its record for the year to 23-3 and set up tonight's finale, with the winner moving on to Kansas City for the NAIA National tournament March 8-13.

Central State will be favored to make the move westward, since the tournament is being played at Wilberforce—home of Central State — and since the Marauders posted an easy 75-59 regular season triumph over the Cedars.

Miami tied its best over-all season win-loss record in coasting to an 82-68 victory over NCAA-bound Eastern Kentucky.

The Redskins now are 19-4 with one regular season contest left—and at least one post season tilt. The 'Skins, who have clinched at least a share of the Mid-American Conference crown must wait to see whether Toledo can upset Ohio University before knowing whether they'll have to meet the Bobcats for the right to represent the conference in the NCAA tourney or make the trip unchallenged.

Steubenville jumped off to a 14-2 lead, and romped to a 105-55 in over St. Vincent of Pennsylvania in a tune-up for NCAA college division play this weekend at Akron.

The victory, which closed the regular season for the Barons, gave them a 20-3 record.

Olympic Star To Fight Her Expulsion

SYDNEY (AP) — Australian swimmer Dawn Fraser said today: "I won't take this lying down."

It was her first comment on her expulsion from the Australian Swimming Union.

"I am not going to have my name slandered all over the world," the indignant Dawn told newsmen.

"All I did wrong in Tokyo was to march in the opening ceremony and wear the wrong suit in my races."

"The official swim suit was too tight and uncomfortable. That's why I wore the wrong suit. I am going to fight this sentence."

Dawn, Olympic gold medalist, was expelled for 10 years and three other girls for lesser periods by the Australian Swimming Union Monday for alleged breaches of discipline at the Tokyo Olympics games.

ASU President Dr. Donald Dowling said reasons for the expulsion would never be made public but on reporters' questions he said marching by the four girls in the opening ceremony against instructions was one reason.

Dawn said "We weren't given the rights of any normal Australian; that's a fair trial. We should have been allowed to appear before the committee to answer the charges and be given an opportunity to reply."

There is no appeal against the ASU decision.

Other girls expelled were Nan Duncan, 17, and 15-year-old Marlene Dayman, for three years each, and Linda McGill, 20, for four years.

Larry Brown Eyes 2nd Base Job

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Larry Brown is irked by talk that the Cleveland Indians are weak defensively under second base.

"We're not, but I'll tell you why everyone thinks we are," Brown said Monday as he observed his 25th birthday.

"Birdie (Manager Birdie Tebbets) used four of us (at second base) last year which gave everyone the impression he wasn't satisfied with any one of us. It looks like he's fishing for another second baseman and I don't think he should. I'll do the job for him out there."

Woody Heid, one of those who alternated with Brown at second last year, is now with the Washington Senators. However, Chuck Hinton, who came to the Tribe in the trade, is being worked out at second base.

Top Poll Teams Remain Alive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's high school basketball teams are making the state's Associated Press member sports writers appear pretty fair prognosticators.

Tournaments have taken a toll of about half the 888 scholastic teams in the opening week of sectional competition — but all members of the top ten, both Class AA and Class A, in the final Associated Press poll are still in the race.

At least seven of the elite list, Urbana, Youngstown Boardman and Dayton Chaminade in class AA, and Albany, Springboro, Cincinnati Country Day and New Boston in class A, swept past two opponents in the early title tests.

Of the outlook, High School Commissioner Paul E. Landis said:

"Seldom has the interest been as high on a statewide basis. If the weather stays moderate, we could have some record attendances all along the tournament trail."

In recent games class AA top rated Canton McKinley defeated Canton Lehman 72-55 for a 19-0 record; runner-up Lima Shawnee won 82-55 over Kenton and 78-55 over Ottawa Glandorf for 20-0, and Urbana, third-rated, jumped to 20-0 by beating Sidney 67-48 and Dayton Northridge 111-47.

Celina Immaculate Conception, the class A ruler, moved to 18-2 with a 67-60 win over St. Henry and a 63-60 conquest of Fremont St. Joseph, and runner-up Batavia reached 21-0 by turning back Mt. Orab 76-53 and Fayetteville 86-30.

Fourth-ranked Minster, only other unbeaten team in the smaller school list, zoomed to 19-0 by trimming Buckland 80-50. All the others were winners with the exception of North-western of Wayne County, which goes into competition this week at Wooster.

Some of the top-ranked clubs can't make it to the state meet this time. Canton McKinley and Youngstown Boardman, and once-beaten Cleveland St. Ignace, are in the Northeast District; Urbana, Cincinnati Withrow and Dayton Chaminade in the Southwest; Newark and Columbus South in the Central — and only one may emerge from each sector.

Three of the top four in class A—Celina ICHS, Lakeside and Minster—are from the Northwest. From the Southwest are Batavia, New Lebanon Dixie, Springboro and Cincinnati Country Day. Only one from each area can reach the state meet.

U.S. Treasury Expects Paris To Seek Gold

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Treasury is braced for France to swap another bundle of American dollars this month for gold. It is also ready to turn over to the International Monetary Fund some more gold — perhaps $250 million — to sweeten a reserve used to protect world currencies from speculative raids or monetary emergencies.

Neither outlay of the metal is likely in itself to upset the Treasury much, but the French action especially seems sure to step up the increasing debate on how to stop this drain.

Already this year the outflow of gold is much larger than in all of 1964. And the drain has been going on since 1957.

But the Treasury is in even better position this month to meet any foreign demands for metal in return for dollars than it was earlier. This is because Congress has voted to free about $5 billion of the Treasury's gold hoard from a reserve to back commercial bank deposits in the nation's 12 federal reserve banks. This $5 billion can be used if needed in defense of the dollar.

The government also is appealing to U.S. banks and corporations to help it reduce the outflow of dollars, which France and others can use when they want to change such paper for the metal.

President Johnson's appeal for voluntary action to trim bank loans to foreigners and U.S. corporate investments overseas has carried a strong implication that if his moral suasion doesn't work, the government may seek action to make it do so.

The U.S. gold stock dipped $262 million in January, largest drain for any month since the $345 million of July 1962. February saw a further loss, as yet not completely spelled out, but enough to bring the Treasury's regular stocks below $15 billion for the first time in 26 years. In all of 1964 the loss was $125 million, with $95 million of that in December.

The U.S. Treasury is legally bound to swap its gold for the dollars that France and other governments hold at the official price of $35 an ounce, plus a service charge of 8 cents an ounce.

The loss of gold from the hoard in Fort Knox and other strongholds is but a symptom of the malady. The basic ailment is the buildup in recent years of dollars in foreign hands. They got there because the United States each year has been sending more dollars abroad than it got back. Its exports have topped imports nicely, but by an insufficient margin to make up for other outflow—government grants and loans, military spending, and private investments in plants and securities, spending by tourists, loans by American banks.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, March 2, the 61st day of 1965. There are 304 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1836, a band of 55 Texans adopted a declaration of independence. Soon after, the Republic of Texas was recognized by the United States, Britain, France and Belgium.

On this date

In 1793, Sam Houston, first president of the Texas Republic and later governor of the state, was born in Virginia.

In 1799, the General Post Office was established by Congress.

In 1853, Washington Territory was organized in the West.

In 1918, German forces occupied the Russian city of Kiev.

In 1942, Gen. Henry (Hap) Arnold was named commander of U.S. Army Air Corps.

Five years ago — the supreme commander of NATO, Gen. Lauris Norstad, disclosed a tacit agreement by the U.S., Britain and France to set up a NATO task force with atomic weapons.

One year ago — Communist China Premier Chou En-Lai arrived home from a tour of Southeast Asia.

CCA Names Eberhart to Forester Post

JAMES E. EBERHART

James E. Eberhart has been named land management forester for Container Corporation of America at the Circleville paper mill.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Henry J. Schroeder, divisional manager of the Corporation at Circleville.

"We are pleased to add another forester with such an excellent background. He will represent our company by working with private landowners in our Cooperative Forest Management Program," Schroeder noted.

Eberhart is a native of Loudonville, O. He received degrees in forestry from Kent State University and the University of Michigan.

PRIOR to joining Container Corporation, he served as ranger on the Hocking State Forest and later as Farm Forester for the Ohio Division of Forestry in Southeastern Ohio. In the latter capacity he worked with many landowners in protection, management and harvesting of private woodlands.

Eberhart now makes his home in Logan where he lives with his wife and two children.

SALT CREEK

The Saltcreek Parent-Teacher Organization held open house 7-8 p. m. before the February meeting.

Immediately after the open house the group met in the auditorium. Mr. Rhoderick Shaw led the orchestra in two numbers, after which Miss Thompson's first and second grades and Mrs. Lochard's first grade took over the program.

Lloyd Spung, vice president, called the business meeting to order.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. A report was given on the serving the annual Alumni banquet. It was decided to serve the dinner. The room count was won by the seventh grade class.

After the meeting, a bake sale was conducted by the eighth grade to raise funds for the graduation party.

Real Life Joan Blondell Is Not Brassy or Breezy

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The public image of Joan Blondell sees her as a brassy, breezy, purse-twirling blonde. The real Blondell is nothing like that at all.

When you meet her, you realize what a clever actress she is. For 30-odd years — which seem scarcely to have changed her — she has projected the role of the hard-as-nails doll. In real life she is reticent and retiring.

The fallacy of public images is underscored by Joan's current reunion with another indelible figure of the screen, Edward G. Robinson. He will ever be Little Caesar, the cigar-chewing mug who rules the mob with a ruthless hand. In reality he is a cultured gentleman who has owned one of the nation's best private art collections.

Blondell and Robinson were members of the famed Warner Bros. stock company of the 1930s. Oddly, they made only one film together, "Bullets or Ballots," in 1963.

"I don't even remember what it was about," she says.

But Robinson has reason to remember it. He had been feuding with the studio over bad scripts and was released to make a picture in England, after which his contract would end. But "Bullets or Ballots" was such a success that Warners signed him to a better contract. Joan hadn't seen Robinson since the Warner Bros. days, nor has she seen many of the studio alumni except her close friend, Glenda Farrell. Joan lives quietly in a Hollywood apartment with her two pug dogs. Occasionally taking a fling at baby-sitting with her four grandchildren — "only I call it baby-jumping: Who gets a chance to sit when there are kids around?"

With plays, television, and films, she maintains a busy schedule, which is how she likes it. "I've been working all my life," she said. "I couldn't quit now."

Took Too Long

VIENNA (AP) — A parcel mailed 32 years ago finally reached its destination this year, but the addressee had been dead for six years.

The long journey of the parcel came to light when it was returned to a Viennese who posted it in 1933. The heirs of the addressee in Dornbirn, Western Austria, had refused to accept the parcel, containing a book commemorating the 80-year-old anniversary of a detective union.

The Austrian Post was unable to explain why a parcel took 32 years from Vienna to Dornbirn.

Half the world's coffee grows in Brazil.
